Questions

Question 1

Were any of the pings successful?

All pings were unsuccessful.

What message did you receive, and which device issued the message?

Device PC1, PC2, and PC3 issued the message “Reply from 172.16.1.1: Destination host unreachable.”

What statement is present in the routing tables that indicates that the pings to the Web Server will fail?

A default route has not been configured on the network device. In other words, the gateway of last resort is not set. The router does not know where to send traffic when a specific route is not set in its routing table.
